

St. George's University

Grenada, West Indies

SVM - Assistant / Associate Professor of Large Animal Medicine

St. George's University invites applicants for a full-time faculty position in the Large Animal Medicine & Surgery department in the School of Veterinary Medicine, beginning 1/1/2026

Objective:

The faculty of St George's University School of Veterinary Medicine are dedicated to upholding the mission of providing an international, culturally diverse environment in which students learn the knowledge, skills and attitudes required for postgraduate training in the Veterinary profession while being inspired to develop compassion, curiosity, tolerance and a commitment to animals and society, a dedication to life-long learning and an understanding of the vital role of research in Veterinary Medicine.

Key Responsibilities:

- Deliver didactic and clinical instruction in Equine Internal Medicine and general Large Animal Medicine to veterinary students.
- Support and supervise practical sessions including physical examination, diagnostic techniques, and treatment procedures involving equine patients.
- Participate in and help coordinate the large animal ambulatory service, ensuring high-quality clinical teaching and client communication.
- Assist in the development and evaluation of examinations, practical assessments, and clinical competencies.
- Provide routine and emergency clinical care to university-owned animals and client-owned animals presented to the ambulatory or on-campus services.
- Contribute to the care, welfare, and medical management of teaching herd animals with an emphasis on equine health.
- Collaborate with faculty and staff to develop and maintain a progressive and dynamic clinical learning environment.
- Engage in continuing professional development and stay current with advancements in equine internal medicine and veterinary education.
- Participate in departmental meetings, curriculum development initiatives, and quality assurance activities.

Required Qualifications:

- DVM or equivalent veterinary degree and MSc are required. PhD is desirable.
- Advanced training in Equine Internal Medicine (residency training or board eligibility/certification desirable).

- Clinical experience in equine internal medicine and herd health.
- Strong commitment to veterinary education and clinical teaching.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Prior teaching experience in a veterinary academic setting.
- Demonstrated interest in educational innovation and student mentorship.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

- This is a full time position in the Caribbean island of Grenada.
- To ensure full consideration, complete application materials including CV, Cover Letter and names and email address of three references must be submitted.
- Salary is competitive and paid in US dollars.
- Review of applicants will be ongoing until the position is filled.
- For further information about the position or the application process, please contact facultyrecruitment@sgu.edu.

OVERVIEW OF ST. GEORGE'S UNIVERSITY

Choosing to become a faculty member at SGU means being offered a blend of professional and personal rewards. Faculty members can make an impact in a vibrant academic community, supporting our students' success, while enjoying an unparalleled quality of life in one of the most beautiful countries in the world, on what is considered one of the world's prettiest campuses. At SGU, faculty members join a diverse academic community that fosters interdisciplinary collaboration and innovation.

St. George's University is an international University located on the island of Grenada. The University offers degrees in the field of medicine, veterinary medicine, public health, nursing, the health sciences, arts and sciences and business. St. George's University has more than 2,500 School of Veterinary Medicine graduates in the US and around the world who are part of a strong alumni network. They practice in 49 US states and 16 countries worldwide.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT AND GROWTH

There are clear and structured growth paths allowing for advancement within the organisation. Additionally, faculty have access to continuous learning opportunities through homegrown professional development programs, as well as financial support to attend conferences and workshops. Faculty members are also eligible to apply for graduate scholarships.

BENEFITS

As a faculty member you are eligible for a wide range of incentives through our benefit package, which includes:

- 1 or 2 months of vacation (contract dependent)
- Health insurance plan
- Medical evacuation insurance plan
- 50% off vehicle import duties
- Paid sabbatical leave
- Educational development allowance
- Eligibility for undergraduate scholarship for immediate dependents

DIVERSE COMMUNITY

When you become a part of our team, you will experience a culturally diverse faculty and student body. The educational environment is enhanced and enriched by a true blend of voices and knowledge from students and faculty, who together have come from more than 140 countries worldwide.

VALUES

Our faculty and staff are inspired by our values which help define and guide us and are seen through the work we do. We are student centric, global community, accountable, collaborative, and committed to excellence.

WELLNESS

Faculty well-being is prioritized with access to a number of wellness resources. There is an on-site health clinic, on-site psychological services, on-site veterinary services, on-site gym facilities and membership to the University Club, which offers access to a restaurant, bars, swimming pool and water sports. Our online wellness portal provides a comprehensive guide to online and physical wellness resources that are available to faculty at the university.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

There are also opportunities for local community engagement through various outreach programs, such as our farmers outreach workshops and nationwide veterinary health clinics, enhancing your sense of purpose and connection with the island.

WORK PERMIT

The university will facilitate acquisition of the government documents needed for faculty to work at SGU.

PURE GRENADA

Grenada, the isle of spice, is a hidden gem located in the south of the Caribbean with easy and convenient access to North and South America. Our International Airport offers direct and/or connecting flights to a number of major hubs in the world.

The island boasts of pure and authentic beauty, lush vegetation, tranquil and hospitable people, and a warm climate year-round. It is one of seven countries who met the World Health Organization's air quality standards in 2023.

It's 133 square miles offer residents a balanced lifestyle with opportunities for various outdoor activities at any one of the island's 40 white sand beaches, 15 breathtaking waterfalls, more than 30 unforgettable dive sites, or extensive tropical rainforest. Sailing and sports fishing are also popular activities as Grenada is known as one of the best deep sea fishing locations in the Caribbean.

With a population of roughly 110,000, Grenada is statistically safer than many major cities around the world and boasts of a low crime rate.

Grenada is a family-friendly location, with numerous public and private schooling options for children.

Non-Grenadian employees pay 15% income tax of gross income. There is no tax on personal foreign income or capital gains.

Click here for more information about Grenada.